FESTOON FOURTH FESTIVAL ACTIVITIES

June 29 at 5:30 pm Meet at the back of 904 State Street to distribute and hang flags, bunting, etc. We will work with the Cross country teams of Jeff High School.

July 1 at 10 am Meet at 904 State Street to help organize the Box Parade which starts at 10:30 am. The parade will proceed down the hill to the Art Museum for ceremonies, followed by activities at the Art Museum. See the Box Parade flyer on page 3

July 4th HAVE A HAPPY & SAFE 4TH!!!

July 6 at 5:30 pm Meet at the back of 904 State Street to take down the flags, bunting, etc. with the Jeff Cross Country teams.

Please come out and help with these activities, as they are important to the community!

More information on next page.

How you can help with the Festooned Fourth Festival

Shannon O'Malley and Brian Scott are chairing the Festival this year and can use your help to prepare the flags and other items before the June 29th hanging. On the 29th they will need your help with overseeing the Jeff Cross Country Teams as they hang the flags, bunting, install the street flags, tree poofs, etc. If you have an extension ladder, a 6, 8, or 10 foot ladder, please bring it.

Again on July 6 they will need your help to take down the flags, etc. It is important to have as many Hillers as possible to store the flags and accessories for the winter. And, again, bring you ladders.

On July 1 come out to help Chairs Jean Chmielewski and Jen and Brian Dekker prepare the youngsters for the Box Parade . We will meet at 904 State Street at 10 am (come a little early if you can) to prepare the participants for the parade, which starts at 10:30 am. Stay and participate in the festivities at the Art Museum.

Hill News

Congratulations to Seniors Jackson Opperman, Faith Christian School, Erin Huston, Sylvia Mueller, and Ross Klink, Jefferson High School. More on their plans later in the year.

Congratulations to Hiller, Jean Chmielewski, the Alice Watson Kramer Distinguished Professor of Chemistry and a professor of biomedical engineering, who has been chosen as the 2017 Herbert Newby McCoy Award recipient. Purdue's most prestigious award in the natural sciences, the McCoy award recognizes Chmielewski for her pioneering impact on the fields of chemical biology and drug discovery. Chmielewski and other award winners were nominated by colleagues, recommended by a faculty committee and named by Purdue President Mitch Daniels. The 2017 recipients will receive a cash prize along with a small grant for their university scholarly activities, and will give distinguished lectures on Oct. 30 in Stewart Center's Fowler Hall.

Congratulations also to Hiller Barrett Caldwell, professor of industrial engineering and aeronautics and astronautics, who was named to the 2016-17 class of Jefferson Science Fellows.

Sympathy goes out to Annette Winter Bottum and family on the death of her brother, Squire Ball.
